They are few in number, but exemplary in works, and ought oftener to have the presence at their and ought oftener to have the presence at their neetings of the intelligent and the refined.

To-day, at eleven o'clock, A. M., Prof. W. H. Rarey, the world renowned horse tamer, will give the first of his lessons in horse taming, at the stables of Mr. Funk, on Centre street. To show the world that he is no humbug, and to convince his audience of the efficacy of his teaching, Mr. Rarey will to-day operate upon a very wild colt belonging to Mr. Poe, of this county. It is a subject worthy the attention of our "horse men," and an opportunity which will not soon be presented again.

OPERA .- "Sonnambula" was performed by the Cooper Troupe last night, affording the highest satisfaction to the audience present. We believe the opinion is general that Amina is Miss Milner's best character. Her style suits it better, doubtless, for she certainly sings the majority of her parts in a manner worthy of equal admiration .-We have not space to mention the rest of the performance, except to say that it was very good. To-night they perform "Lucia di Lammer

The remarkable course this gentleman has seen fit to pursue, has been denounced in the strongest terms, by almost every distinguished Democrat who has had his attention called to it. The Lexington Statesman, in alluding to his infortunate and anti-Democratic position, says: He first boldly withdrew all allegiance to the organization of the party, denounced its usages and precedents, and announced himself a candidate. Now he backs down somewhat. In his last circular he announces himself a candidate for re-election, takes the occasion to re-assert his "opposition to conventions per ss, but is in favor of a convention to take candidates off the track." or a convention to take candidates on the track.

What he means is not easily told. The whole thing strikes us as supremely ridiculous. If we understand him, he is unwilling to abide the decision of a convention, and we must so regard his position until he writes a less ambiguous letter. If we mistake his position, it is easily corrected. We do not care to discuss with him or his organ the difference between a convention to put a candidate on the track, and a convention to take a

The Bardstown Gazette, in a very temperate and well written article reviewing Mr. Jewett's course, says:

We wish it distinctly understood, by Mr. Jewett and his friends, however, that the foregoing re-marks have not been written in a spirit of hostility to his aspirations to a seat in the next Congress. We are merely inimical to his position in regard to conventions; and we repeat our declaration of last week, that if Mr. Jewett will submit his claims to the convention (which we have no doubt will be holden,) and he should be the nominee of that convention, we shall support him as such, with the utmost of our poor ability. We think our late representative has been inconsiderate and has gained more credit for intrepid temerity than for enlightened discretion, by assuming his present position. We hope he will reconsider it. If, however, he is resolved to run in spite of conventions, and in opposition to the regular nominee, we can only say that such a course will ensure his own defeat, and seriously endanger the success of the party. The Paducah Herald doesn't mince matters but talks right out. It says: The Lexington Statesman and Louisville Courier both report the Hon. J. H. Jewett, of the Fourth District, as playing the disorganizer. If this gentleman thus forces himself upon the District, we sincerely hope that enough Democrats will not vote for him to cause his defeat. We will not vote for any man who takes the position of "rule or ruin." It is better for the party to let such men be defeated, and thus teach them that they cannot control it for their own unhallowed

DEATH ON THE LOUISVILLE MAIL BOAT .- A man named Elias Cunningham took deck-passage on the Jacob Strader, on her last upward trip, and died on his way to Cincinnati, before any one was aware he was ill. It appears he had been dissipating for several days previous to his leaving, and this irregularity was probably the cause of his demise. Coroner Carey, on the arrival of the steamer at Cincinnati, held an inquest upon the body, and the jury returned a verdict of death from some unknown disease. Cunningham

THE BOYS OF ST. MARY'S. THE BANK OF TENNESSEE. -On and after the first day of September next the Bank of Tennessee and Branches are required to pay out only such notes the same bank. Of course it cannot receive the other branch notes unless the arrangement is previously made for the redemption of the notes. No bank can continue to receive on deposit and in payment the notes of other banks which they are forbidden to pay out. In a very short space of time the home issue would be exhausted and all depositors would have to be paid in gold. By this act of the Legislature the Bank of Tennessee is dismembered—it can no longer act as a unit. Each branch is in effect an independent bank, relying on its own resources—holding the other branches as they do other banks, in war enemies—in peace friends.

The mother bank will probably no longer attempt to redeem the branch notes at Nashville—for they cannot do this without keeping on hand two dollars in gold for one in paper. This will prevent Nashville from being the money center of The Disaster on the Great Western Railway It is our painful duty to record one of the most horrible railroad accidents that has taken place for some time. The express leaving Windsor for Suspension Bridge, on Friday evening at a quarter past seven, was freighted with a large cargo of human beings, and all were resting, as they supposed, in the most perfect security, when suddenly, and without a moment's warning, the train, when it was about a mile east of Flomboro' Station, was precipitated down an embankment of about fifty leet, literally smashing the engine, baggage, one second and two first class cars to atoms. There was one car besides the one men-There was one car besides the one men ned-the sleeping car, at the rear end of the The train had left Paris twenty minutes past one o'clock on Saturday morning, was due at Hamilton at twenty minutes of two o'clock, and was running at an ordinary rate of speed, when it reached the scene of the accident 10 miles west of Hamilton. The scene exhibited where the train descended was terrible. The furious equinoctial storm was raging in all its violence, and the snow was falling in perfect masses.

The line was washed away, the chasm being as long as three or four passenger cars. Into this gully the locomotive rushed headlong, completely burying itself in the soil. Next came the baggage ar, then the second class car, and the first cla car, then the second class car, and the first class passenger cars; the sleeping car being the only one which remained upon the track, and this had a corner carried away by the car which had preceded it. The groans of the wounded and the dying, the hissing steam from the engine, the fury of the storm, and the other surroundings, considered to make the catastrophe even more horrispired to make the catastrophe even more horri-ble than that at Desjardin's bridge. As soon as the accident occurred, the uninjured, so soon as they were able to collect their scattered senses, mselves at work to succor the wounded and the dying. Assistance was sent for to Hamilton, which soon arrived, when the following were found to have been instantly killed: George Morgan, the engineer of the train, Hamilton, C.W.; Alexander Braid, of Hamilton; William Milne, brakeman, and Jones Boyer, a German, from

Mrs. Boyer, widow of James Boyer, (killed,) had her upper jaw broken and her face badly cut; and her little boy had a leg broken. John Anderson, a brakeman, had his head ightly cut.

The shock to all of the passengers, except those in the sleeping car, was very severe. It was in this car that Mr. Braid was sitting, chatting to Mr. Wilson and another person by the stove, when bolts and timbers from the passenger car immediately preceding it, entered and killed Mr. Braid instantly, and wounded Mr. Wilson. The point where the accident occurred was described to us by an eye-witness, as follows: The grade from Lynden to Hamilton is a very heavy one, on which the rails are laid from the lands near Lake Ontario to the high land. The track runs around the side of a mountain or bluff, which has been cut away for the purpose, and then continues for several hundred feet between Flamboro and Dundas, over an embankment from fifty to seventy-five feet in height. This embankment is raised from a low plain, which was formerly crossed by the rail being laid on the trestle work, the open space being afterward filled by earth. The earth, by the heavy rain and storm, was washed and blown away, so that when the train was crossing, it had just lost its power to sustain the weight, and down the train trestle work and all went. No blame can be laid to the managers of the road, but the accident was caused by the storm, which was of unprecedented severity. About

We were yesterday shown by Mr. Bayliss, Bayliss & Co., Front Row, a portion of thirteen use cotton of the filthiest descript bale, which was from Tipton county, Tennessee we have the planters, name but withhold it, at leas or present-was a rat's nest with the manure and looked much like the refuse that has been used to clean machinery with. This had apparently been put into the bale in a wet state, and it was full of sand and dirt, so that when lifted up the tangled lumps were nearly as heavy as lumps of clay. In all the bales the contrast between the white spe-cimens in the sample, and the dirty, tangled, black refuse within, was astonishing. Some of the fraud-alectly packed cotton was from Lardis, and other places in Mississippi, and some from places in Fennessee; a portion had reached the city by the Ohio Railroad A number of gentlemen who were in Mr. Bayliss' office while we were there, were discussing the propriety of drawing up a card containing the names of the planters at whose card containing the names of the planters at whose gin-houses this cotton, and that of others, who have in a similar way, defrauded other merchants in this city, signing it with their names and publishing it. This exposure is richly merited by the dishonest persons whose criminal conduct is calculated to destroy the good name of the city and neighborhood, and to injure commerce. The packing could be no accidental affair, no mere trick of negroes, for one ball weighing seven hundred and twenty pounds had been cleaned by the manufacturers of the sand, that had been put with manufacturers of the sand, that had been put with the cotton in the middle of the bale, and the result was a loss of three hundred and twenty-seen pounds! Democratic Meeting at Jeffersontown We are requested to call a meeting of the Dem ceratic party at Jeffersontown, for Saturday, the 26th of March, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the District Convention hereafter to be held, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the Seventh Congressional District in the next Congress of the United States. It is highly important that all portions of the county should be fully represented at the meeting on the

The editor of the Journal attempted vesterday to shield his brethren from four charges of extravagance, etc., which we made against them in their miserable government of Louisville. As a matter of course his attempt was a failure, for we made no charges, and intend to make none, that K. N. figures do not sustain. We have a good many more charges to make against the editor's brother Know Nothings, and if he will follow us through the catalogue and attempt to answer all, we will have him as deep in the mud before we are done as his brethren are in the mire.

The editor pretends not to understand our charge that since the Know Nothings have had control of Louisville, they have collected and spent $3,000,-000 of the people's money. He does not want to understand the charge, and hence refers it to the issue of bonds by the city, with which he knows it has no connection whatever. The items which make up the $3,000,000, are the annual expenditures of the Know Nothings, for the years ending March 10th, 1855,-'56,-'57,-'58, and '59, which are as follows (with the assumption on our part that the last year equals the preceding in expenditures): 1855 $655,000; 1856, $506,000; 1857, $560,-000; 1958, $646,000; and 1859, $646,000, making a total of about three million dollars. If the bond s enumerated by the editor were added (some of which were issued before Know Nothingism was heard of) the total expenditures would be over $6,000,000, during the five years reign of the Know Nothings in this city, or over $1,200,000 per year. But the expenditures of this wasteful and extravagant party are enough, in all conscience, without adding to their squanderings the bonded debt of the city, upon which an annual sum of about $200,000, has to be paid in the shape of interest,

The item of city taxation alluded to by the editor, contains, as he suggests, a typographical error. The figures $700,000 and $350,000, in the latter part of our paragraph, should evidently be reversed, and the latter should be $300,000 instead of $350,000. With this correction the charge is unanswerable. The Auditor's report (very bad uthority, we admit, but good enough to apply to Know Nothing misrule) for 1854, puts down the city tax at $187,560 88, and the total revenue of the city at $526,782 63, exclusive of $46,504 57 cash and warrants. The same authority in his revised and corrected report for 1858, puts down the city tax at $244,725 22, and the total revenue at $643,-902 75, exclusive of $110,649 55 of warrants and cash in the Treasury.

cash in the Treasury.

Now the valuation of property in the city last year, for city purposes, amounted to $25,000,000, and the probability is that it will overgo that valuation this year. Any one can, by a rule in simple proportion, find out that $1 05 on each one hundred dollars of this valuation, will nearly reach $300,000, and all of this money will not to so great an amount.

4. There was also $100,000, which had been sent, by way of transfer, by Mr. Corwin, Mr. Fillmore's Secretary of the Treasury, from New York to New Orleans, which turned up in a bank columbus Ohio, and has not been and we support the series of the sent that the city last content of the probability is that it will overgo that was done.

3. Chubb Brothers, another firm of Washington City, held monies, but not to so great an amount.

4. There was also $100,000, which had been sent, by way of transfer, by Mr. Corwin, Mr. Fillmore's Secretary of the Treasury, from New York to New Orleans, which turned up in a bank columbus Opin and has not been and we support the city held monies, but not to so great an amount. hundred dollars of this valuation, will nearly reach $300,000; and all of this money will not come from the natural increase of property in the city, for it is known to many who pay taxes here, that the Assessor has valued some property at more than it is worth—more than it can be sold for upon long credit, while a cash sale should be the maximum of valuation.

The editor is not more successful in his attempt to refute our charge that the Know Nothings have spent $12,000 for printing; $38,000 for keeping the workhouse; $60,000 for gas; $50,000 for salaries of city officers, and $130,000 for watch-

True, the public printing has not been done at the Courier office, and hence its comparative worthlessness. If what went into the Journal had appeared in the Courier, it would have been read by three times as many subscribers, and if the city job work had been done at our office, no such mistakes would have occurred as that which required the Auditor to have his report re-printed in 1857, nor would anything have occurred to have given rise to the suspicion he has now set afloat that the public printer is accountable for the de-formity of his December abortion. As to what we said about the expense the workhouse has been to the city under Know Nothing rule, it is more than true according to the Auditor's reports. The Auditor says that the follow. ing sums were received by the city from the workhouse for the following years: Receipts for 1855..... $270 82

" 1858..... 11,181 16 Total.....$85,177 38 The difference between these receipts and ex penditures for the four years named, is $33,672 81. It is fair, therefore, to infer that the difference between the receipts and expenditures for the last year, which the Auditor has not reported, will bring up this $33,672 81 to the $38,000 which we said the work house had cost the city under Know Nothing rule. If the accounts of Keeper Holmes and the Auditor do not agree, it is no fault of ours. We have garbled no record, but given the figures as we find them in the annual reports of the Auditor. Surely the Auditor whom the Know Nothings have nominated with all of these reports be fore them, is good enough anthority for us to quote

There don't seem to be any disagreement be-tween us and the editor of the Journal as to expense of gas, the city officers and the police. He admits our figures, the three items amounting to $240,000, but don't like our comments. We did not expect that he would like the inferences we drew from this enormous expenditure for these three things. He will permit us, however, to be of the same opinion now, since we have seen his reply, that we entertained when our first article was written, to-wit: That much of this gas was consumed in lighting up engine-houses for Know Nothing meetings; that some of the city officials, tor, for instance, has not done work for the public as good as his pay, and that much of the money given to the police went to pay watch-editor, by adducing sums of money paid to Meadows, Williams & Co., without date, does not convince us that there is not wrong in the market house accounts. If the market fund for the fiscal year ending March the 10th, 1858, went to pay Meadows & Co., what went with the fund of the previous and succeeding years? We do not pretend to inderstand the market house account any more than many others of the Auditor's confused exhibits. We will, however, give a few facts and fingres on this subject from the Auditor's reports and the Treasurer's balance sheet, and then leave these gentlemen to settle the market house matter with emselves and the people.

The Auditor, in his anual reports for the fiscal ears ending March 10th, 1855, '56, '57, and '58, (we have none for '59) shows that the following sums were received and expended on account of the market houses: Receipts for 1855, ..... $ 9,865 00

1857, 1858, Total receipts, ......$39,632 20 During the same time he accounts for the exenditures, as follows: Expenditures for 1855,

9,635 7 Total expenditures,.....$29,330 72

Now it is plain to any one that by substracting the expenditures above enumerated from the receipts, that the difference is $10,301 48. The Auditor's or Treasurer's report should, therefore, show there was in the city Treasury on the 10th day of March, 1858, the sum of $10,301 48, to the credit of the markets, if a separate markethouse account is pretended to be kept. The Treasurer's balance sheet shows such an account. but if it shows the credit of $10,301 48, we have not been able to find it. On the contrary, by looking at the Treasurer's balance sheet, at the end of the report, it will be found that he puts down the sum of $153 42 to the credit of markethouses. There is quite a difference between $153 42 and $10,301 48. The difference is $10, 148 06. Will the Treasurer, the Auditor, the market-house keepers, the editor of the Journal, or any one else concered, explain this matter ?-We confess that we don't understand it to be the right sort of book-keeping, for even if the difference between the receipts and expenditures of the markets for 1858 is $53 42, as put down by the Auditor, and this sum is the proper one to be to the credit of the market-house account in the Treasurer's balance sheet, the two do not agree—the Treasurer having it $153 42, and

But to wind up this long article, we will advise the editor of the Journal to mind whither he is going, when he undertakes to defend Know Nothing rule in this city. We shall give him several items to ponder over during the next few days, and if he can't make a better defense than the one under consideration, he had better let the matter alone. We know what we are about, and shall make no charge against our Know Nothing rulers that we have not K. N. data to sustain. When we have done with the subject it will be for the people to decide on the second of April, whether or not they can any longer submit to such uses of the public the Auditor $53 42.

The editor of the Paducah Herald is talking, writing and acting Nobly in behalf of the Hon. James Guthrie for the Presidency in 1860. In his paper of the 17th inst., he had extracts from half a dozen letters reflecting the sentiments of Kentucky for Guthrie, besides a capital editorial, from which we make the following extracts: He dismissed some forty secret Inspectors of the Customs, with large pay, and unknown duties.

and also some thirty surplus offices of revenue He reduced unsettled accounts from $132,000,000 to $24,000,000, and collecting large balances thereon, including Draper's of $1,500,000, and Gardner's of over $100,000.

He re-established the Sub-Treasury, and introduced and established monthly accounts and settlements, in lieu of such as had before required about a very

These and other reforms required nerve to enforce, as well as sagacity to perceive, and industry to consummate. Look at the anecdote told by Gen. Cushing, in his Faneuil Hall speech, in the summer of 1857. He said a very large claim was brought before He said a very large claim was brought before the Cabinet and was discussed by its members, some for and some against it. Mr. Guthrie remained silent until the President directly addressed him: "Mr. Guthrie," said he, "this is a claim against your Department—let us hear your opinion of it." Mr. Guthrie immediately arose and said—"Gentlemen, that question has been decided in the Treasury. Good morning." And taking his hat, left the room, and we did not know (added Cushing) that he would stop short of Kentucky. of Kentucky.

1. Mr. Simeon Draper, a broker of New York, held about $1,500,000 of the public money. The collection was at once entered upon. Draper paid from time to time, and had completed the last payment only about a month, when he failed and

2. The firm of Seldon, Withers & Co., of Wash-2. The firm of Seidon, Withers & Co., of Washington City, held in various ways—of the Treasury, and of disbursing and collecting officers—probably $800,000. 5. In California, for the want of a place of deposit, the system could not be put in immediate force, and large sums, in the hands of disbursing officers, were on deposit with the bankers, and loaned out at two and three per cent. a month. As soon as the Branch Mint was completed, Mr. Guthrie gave peremptory orders to these officers to make their deposits in it, and almost immediately afterwards there was a general failure of ately afterwards there was a general failure of these bankers. Had the system not been then put in force, the Government would unquestionably have lost a million of dollars.

What, we ask, are the essential qualities required in a Chief Magistrate of this great Republic?

Ability, integrity, firmness. If he possess these, its interests and its honor are safe. The peo ple can ask no more. James Guthrie has these qual ities in the highest degree—not hypothetically or conjecturally, but proven and established by the most ample and unquestioned record.

HOOP SKIRTS.—The best tempered steel is found to be far superior to any other article for making Hooped Skirts, and John M. Robinson & Co., late Robinson & Bro., are still manufacturing in large quantities their celebrated Double Extension Patent Bustle Skirts, using exclusively the very best tempered watch-spring steel. Many of the largest retailers will not buy any other than these popular Skirts, and their customers pronounce em superior to any they have ever seen worn, the hoops being so very elastic and pliable, that the Skirt is never thrown out of shape. All orders for any quantity of these popular PRACTICAL ADVICE TO LADIES.—The first symptoms of disease should never be disregarded. If not removed, serious evils will inevitably follow, and in seeking assistance all remedies that will act violently or reduce the strength should be avoided. They, instead of assisting nature, weaken and debilitate those organs. For Female Complaints, take McLean's Strengthening Corplat And Blood Purifier. It stands pre-eminent in all diseases peculiar to females. Try it; it is a delicious aromatic Cordial.

ARRIVAL OF THE NOVA SCOTIA

PORTLAND, Mr., March 23.—The steamship Nova Scotia, with Liverpool dates to the 9th inst., arriv-ed here this morning, bringing four days later intelligence.

ed here this morning, bringing four days later intelligence.

The America arrived out on the 8th inst.

The ship David Stewart had landed the Neapolitan exiles at Queenstown, they having compelled the captain to this course.

A pacific article which appeared in the Moniteur, Napoleon's organ, caused a considerable rise in the funds at London, Paris and Vienna.

Prince Napoleon has resigned the ministry of Algeria, which added to the confidence in the French Government.

Great Britain.—The ship David Stewart arrived at Queenstown on the 6th, having on board the Italian exiles. As soon as the Neapolitan war steamer left the ship, the exiles compelled the captain to steer direct for Cork. When the exiles landed at Queenstown, their enthusiasm rose to such an intensity that some of them actually kissed the soil.

kissed the soil. Another account says when the ship was out-side of the Straits of Gibraltar the exiles openly mutinied, demanding that the captain should steer for Ireland. He flatly refused, when he was deprived of the command of the vessel, and the second mate appointed to command. The latter complied with instructions of the passengers.

The following proceedings have taken place in Parliament since the sailing of the last steamer: Mr. Duncombe gave notice of sundry amendments to the reform bill, extending still further the elective franchise.

[4]D'Israeli, in reply to a question put by a member of the House, said the Government did not intend to grant exclusive privileges to the Atlantic or any other telegraph company, for the establishment of telegraphic communication between England and America.

Lord Noos alluded in the House of Lords to the carried of the Nespolitan evides at Cork but did. arrival of the Neapolitan exiles at Cork, but did not suggest any official action in the matter. It is reported that government dispatches sent via America to the British on the Pacific, have recently frequently failed to reach their destinati n the regular course.

The leaders of the old Whig party have held a meeting, and resolved to request Lord Russell to propose certain amendments to the Ministerial Reform bill. There was much excitement exist-ing in regard to this bill, and meetings in opposi-tion to the Government measure were being held

The announcement of the resignation of Prince Napoleon, of the Ministry to Algeria, gave great apparate to the funds in England as well as on he continent. the continent.

Austrian securities had an immense rebound, having advanced in Vienna, from Friday to Monday, fully 4 per cent, while exchange on Vienna had declined, in London, 7 per cent. in three

The Times, and other leading London journals, extend a cordial welcome to the Neapolitan excles.

France.—Notwithstanding the marked effect on bonds produced by the pacific article in the Moniteur, the London journals sneer at it, and throw doubts on its sincerity. The journals of Vienna also criticize on it in a skeptical light.

The Paris Constitutionnel re-asserts that the French troops are evacuating Rome.

M. Chasselou Zaubat succeeds Prince Napoleon in the Ministry to Algeria.

In the Ministry to Algeria.

The resignation of Prince Napoleon is regarded as a peace offering, the Prince being in favor of war. The Emperor refused to accept his resignation until it had been tendered three or four times. His retirement was caused by a difference of opinion with the greater part of the cabinet on exercises of internal and external noisy. uestions of internal and external policy.

Trade in France has become dull.

The Constitutionel publishes an article signed by its political director, explaining the political article in the Moniteur, saying that it must not be regarded as a retrograde movement caused by the crusade which the mere active propagandi had succeeded in raising in Germany. Prince Napoleon will be appointed Grand Adniral. Switzerland.—The Federal Council has issued a circular, announcing its determination to main-tain the neutrality and integrity of Switzerland. Ausrnia.—The Paris Moniteu's pacific article produced a favorable impression on the Emperor. Count Buol, a leading statesman, believes that beace will be maintained.

Fears, however, are entertained of explosions in he Italian Duchies Lord Cowlay will remain at Vienna.

NAPLES.—The health of the King was such that it was supposed he would never be able to rule again.

The Queen conducts State affairs, and is reported to have caused the King to sign a treaty offensive and defensive with Austria.

It is reported that the Neapolitan Government offered to furnish the Pope four battalions of Swiss traces.

Swiss troops.

Spain.—Mr. Preston, the American Minister, had arived at Madrid. The discontent of the Italians was general, causing a complete stagnation in business.

The fortification of Pavia continued with much activity. New batteries of mounted guns of the heaviest calibre were being constructed. PRUSSIA.—The young prince has been christined Frederick William Vic or Albert.

Sailed from Liverpool on the 7th for Philladelphia, ship Lizzie Harwood.

The garrison at Tampico had been reduced to less than one hundred and twenty men by the withdrawal of the Liberal troops for the defense of Vera Cruz. THE VESPER GAS AIR LIGHT

The Cheanest, most Brittant, and most Convenient Artificial Light in the World.

THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety and simplicity, far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas flame and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixtures is so simple that it is not liable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burnt in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, a., by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light.
The light has been pronounced, by those who have had it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, the re being no dickering or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tastes, from the plain slogle light burner to the most costly chandeller. Each chandeller is perfect in itself; there is no outlay to be made for service pipes. The gas is generated in the burner, and all fixtures, from the cheap single light burner to the expensive chandeller, are miniature gas works in themselves. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of ordinary gas fixtures of similar styles and ornamentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.

throughout the State can now be fitted up with thos elegant and convenient chandeliers, and other beautifugas fixtures, which add so much to the appearance of the conference gas fixtures, which add so much to the appearance of such places, and to the comfort of the home circle, and which, heretofore, could be used only in those favored districts embraced within the coal gas limits of large cities.

The limited space of an advertisement precludes the insertion here of the numerous testimonials of approval we have received from all quarters. Suffice it to say, scientific men and others who have examined and thoroughly tested the merits of the Vesper Gas light, pronounce it the best and cheapest artificial light now known.

The proprietor respectfully requests responsible merchants in every town and county in the State to correspond with him, believing they will find it to their interest to aid him in introducing this unequaled light to Business at the city wharf was quite brisk yesterday. There were 15 boats receiving and discharging at the same time. The J. B. Ford, Hazel Dell, and Key West were loading for Pittsburgh. The Southerner was receiving and discharging for St. Louis, and the H. Bridges and Bracelet for Green river; the Diana and Fairchild for New Orleans. CYLINDER BROKEN.—Last evening, just after the Diana had descended the falls for New Orleans, and rounded too at Portland to land the falls pilot, the larboard cylinder broke and she will have to abandon her trip. The engine had made but two revolutions, the engineer having his hand on the throttle-valve at the time, when the end of the valvinger broke off. The Eagle, the swift tow boat of the Messrs. Miller, was due from Pittsburg, last night, with a large lot of coal. SALE OF THE DIAMOND.—Yesterday Capt. John Hazlep, the elongated, purchased one-half of the Diamond from Capt. Hollcroft for $6,000. He will take command of her, and run her regularly between Pittsburgh and S.t Louis.

SALE OF THE DANIEL BOONE .- In the Courier resterday, we announced the sale of the Daniel Boone, at Memphis, to Capt. Archer, of the South-rner. We have since learned that he re-sold the locat to Capt. Goolee, of the Memphis and New Orleans Packet Company.

RUDDER BROKEN—DETENTION.—The Southerner, on her late trip, was so unfortunate as to break her rudder, and had to make the entire trip from Memphis in that condition. Her usual time to Cairo, from Memphis, is 24 hours, attending to business, yet this trip she was 27 hours and made lewer landings than usual, owing to the broken modder.

Capt. Archer telegraphed to Howard & Brother omake a new radder, which they made in a sin-le day, all complete, and had it in place last CALL attention to the notice of the Peorla Insurance (Company from the Ohicago Daily Press and Tribune which notice was voluntary on the part of the editors who know what they say to be true. Such evidence must put to blush the petty malice simed at the Peorla Insurance Company by some malicious slanderers of our city. The Company has a paid capital of $300,000, and a surplus of $52,000. This surely is a sufficient guaranty to all who will insure. Its business is very large and reliable. At the office of J. B. McIlvaine & Son, No. 382 M. street, 1 door below Seventh.

Louisville, Feb. 21, 1859.

OUR tobacco factory was very near being destroyed by fire on the night of the 7th of January, on Main, near Ninth streets. The roof being partially burned, our boxes under press were removed in the street, and were partially damaged by the water and rough handling of the boxes. Mr. J. B. McIlvaine, the agent of the Peoria Insurance Company, came very promptly and ordered the roof to be repaired, &c. Arbitrators were mutually chosen, the damages satisfactorily arranged, and he has this day paid the damages in full, allowing claims for labor in protecting the house from the flames, and for removing the stock out and back into the house. And with promptness on the part of the agent, and on the part of the company in paying losses, I hope to see the Peoria office succeed to a good share of business in our city.

LOUISVILLE, January 20, 1859.

[From the Chicago Daily Free Press and Tribune, Feb. 12th, 1859.]

The Proria Marine and Fire Insurance Company.—It is with pride and pleasure that we ask the attention of our readers to the statement of this company in our columns this morning. It is the first detailed exhibit of the condition of any home company that we have ever seen, and compares most favorably with the statements of the best Eastern companies. Such an array of assets, amounting in all to $352,556 24, skows most conclusively that we have a company in our own State, as sound and as well managed as any other, no matter where located. As it regards its promptness and liberality in the settlement of its losses, no company has a better reputation. The Peoria Company is doing business in most of the Western and Southern States, including Wisconsin, Michigan, Indians, Missouri and Kentucky, where it is obliged to file an annual statement of its condition and to comply with the same laws that are required of all Eastern companies. The fact that the company can comply with the laws of those States, which are regarded as very onerous by many companies, shows that it has the necessary capital, and as available assets as any other company, being subjected to the same provisions.

COMMERCIAL

We remark a great degree of activity prevailing he market among jobbing houses and dry goods dealers generally, with a considerable number of country buyers in the city. This makes the trade along Main street and the shipments by the packets quite active. In groceries the market is rather quiet, with a large stock on hand, and continued fair receipts. The tobacco trade is very active, with heavy receipts, and sales at fair prices, considering the condition and quality of the tobacco on sale, the most of which is lugs, and rather badly prized. The great bulk of the sales this wee have been of tobacco from the Green river districts, the Ohio river counties, and from Kentucky river. The flour market is firm though quiet, and wheat scarce at full rates. In regard to other descriptions of grain, there is a fair degree of activity prevailing at about for mer rates. The provision market was exceedingly dull at the first of the week, but at the close holders have dull. The following in reference to the provision trade we copy from the Cincinnati Price Current, of to-day which we believe is correct:

The unusual large stocks of barrel pork, in the leading seaboard cities, on the lat of the present month seem to many unaccountable, particularly to those who operated last fall in the article, under the belief that it would be very scarce this season. In accounting for the accumulation of the stocks referred to, it is stated that the hog product has been taken forward the present season, earlier than usual, and that the great bulk of the season's cure, particularly of barrelled meat, is already gone forward. Considering this an important and interesting matter, we have carefully examined the imports and experts, during the season proper, that is for the three months ending the 1st inst., in order to lay the facts in the case before the trade. There is an increase in the quantity gone forward to the seaboard, as far as we have the figures, and as regards barrel meat, bacon, and bulk meats, but a decrease in lard. It will be observed also that the falling off in the foreign shipments is nearly equal to the increase in the amount sent forward.
